ICEIRD International Conference
10 YEARS for Entrepreneurship,
Innovation and Regional Development

University-Industry Links:
Coproducting Knowledge,
Innovation & Growth

31 Aug – 1 Sept 2017
Makedonia Palace Hotel, 5*
Thessaloniki, Greece

Over the past 10 years, ICEIRD has become one of the leading entrepreneurship, innovation and regional development conferences in Europe, attracting academics and practitioners from around the world. ICEIRD over the past decade has focused on the importance of universities, industry and government, and how innovation-led growth can be promoted. As an innovative conference, which brings together academics, policymakers, practitioners, and businesses (companies), this year the theme of ICEIRD is to advance research and to practice university-industry links. The conference is structured around three themes focused on research, co-production and commercialization through university-industry links.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

ICEIRD aims at academics, university technology managers, entrepreneurs, policy-makers, businesses and investors interested in the theory and practice of university-industry links as well as innovation, entrepreneurship, and regional development.

Benefits from attending the International Conference for Entrepreneurship, Innovation and Regional Development (ICEIRD)

- > Conference Publication and Journal Publication, Best Paper Award
